Applicant's arguments, see the remarks, filed 02/06/06, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-5, 15-18, 25-30 under 35 USC 102 and 103 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Montgomery.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 5, 10-12, 14-16, 19, 20, 22-27, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Montgomery U.S. Patent 5,893,790.

Montgomery disclosed an apparatus comprising a flexible material (13) made of polyethylene terephthalate (same material as the flexible material as disclosed in the specification) that is inherently having low permeability to a lighter than air gas, and defining a chamber; at least one structural member (15, 16, 18, 19) coupled to the flexible material such that when the chamber is filled with gas to a known level, the apparatus is substantially neutrally buoyant under ambient conditions; a valve (21) to seal the chamber to maintain the known level during use (see abstract); a sleeve (14) coupled to the flexible material to retain the structural member; Fig. 1 shows the structural member (15, 16) defines at least a portion of a shape of the chamber; the sleeve (14) is inherently made from a same material as the flexible material (13).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4, 6-9, 13, 17, 18, 28, 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Montgomery ('790).

Regarding claims 4, 8, 13, 21, and 28, it is noted that the sleeve or flange (14) of Montgomery appears to be integral with the flexible material instead of being heat welded to the flexible material. However, such difference is merely a matter of mechanical expediency and could be used interchangeably.

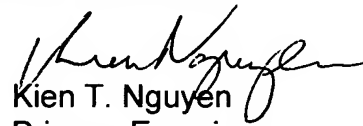

Regarding claims 6, 17, 18, the flange (14) appears to be one strip instead of a plurality of strips as claimed. However, it would have been a matter of design choice to provide separate flange or sleeve for separate weight around the perimeter of the apparatus to allow user to remove/add an individual weight.
